Background: The applicant requests a zone change for the subject property from SF-20 Single-family Residential to NO Neighborhood Office. The subject property is located at the southwest corner of South Broadway and Kirby Street, which is south of Haysville in Sedgwick County. The existing site is occupied with a building that appears to have formerly been a service station, but had been vacant for some time when acquired by the applicant. Therefore, the applicant cannot claim legal nonconforming status. The applicant runs a one-person office with little or no customer traffic and has no intention to hire additional employees. The applicant has requested a zone change to the most restrictive zoning district that allows the current use in order to bring this activity into zoning compliance.

Analysis: The surrounding area is characterized by commercial and residential uses, although all the adjacent land uses are residential in nature. The surrounding properties on all sides are zoned SF-20 Single-family Residential and occupied with a mix of site-built and manufactured single-family residences. However, there are multiple nonconforming commercial uses to the north, which include a vehicle salvage yard, RV park and propane sales. All of these uses are within a quarter of a mile from the subject property. Additionally, approximately a half a mile to the south is a commercially zoned intersection (LC) with several restaurant/tavern establishments.

The Land Use Guide of the Comprehensive Plan depicts the site as being within Haysville's projected 2030 "urban growth area." The Office Locational Guidelines of the Comprehensive Plan recommend that office uses be located adjacent to arterial streets and that low-density office uses can serve as a transitional land use between residential uses and uses of a higher intensity. The subject property appears to meet these criteria. The site is identified in the Haysville Comprehensive Plan as appropriated for single-family residential development. However, Haysville staff indicated that the City of Haysville does not currently have an office category on their future land map, but is contemplating adding such a category. The subject property is in an area likely to be converted to the office use category if such a category is created.

The application area lies within the City of Haysville's "zoning area of influence." Therefore, the Haysville Planning commission heard this case on June 8, 2006, and unanimously approved per staff recommendations. MAPD has not received a summary or minutes from this meeting.

The MAPC heard the case on June 14, 2006. MAPC voted (10-1) to approve the request per staff recommendation. The lone dissenting vote expressed concerns about allowing the property direct access to Kirby Street, which is a local residential street, rather than requiring access to be directly to South Broadway. An excerpt from the minutes is attached.

Staff has received one protest letter (attached), but no valid protest petitions have been received.

Alternatives:

1. Approve the zone change; adopt the findings of the Metropolitan Area Planning Commission; authorize the Chairman to sign the resolution.; or
2. Return such recommendation to the MAPC with a statement specifying the basis for the BOCC's failure to approve or disapprove.
